Raleigh Social.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 24.—One of the most delightful social events of last week was a river party given by the Meses Root, in honor of their guest, Miss J. M. Myers, of Washington, D. C., on Tuesday evening. Miss Myers is especially popular in Raleigh, and her visits here are always characterized by numerous social attentions.

Tuesday evening her hostesses had planned an outing at Mt. Burnside-on-the-Neuse, and it proved a most delightful affair. Luncheon was served on the rocks. There was a moonlight sail several miles up the river, and many pleasant features of the outing especially memorable.

The party were Miss Myers, Miss Sadie Root, Miss Belle Pescud, Miss Mary Armstrong Jones, Miss Annie Root, Mr. W. V. Vass, Mr. T. P. Haywood, Mr. J. G. de Roubaix Hamilton and Dr. E. B. Ferebee.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Charlotte M. Williamson entertained at bridge whist in honor of her guest, Mrs. Charles Henderson, of Troy, Ala., sister of Mrs. Williamson. A unique feature of the affair was cutting for souvenirs—dainty cups and saucers. There was one for each table, and the ladies at each cut the cards for the prize, the highest cut at each table getting the souvenir. The fortunate ones were Mrs. Charles McKinnon, Mrs. George Strong, Mrs. R. D. W. Connor and Miss Mary Burton. The guests were Mrs. John C. Drewry, Mrs. Robert Strong, Mrs. George Strong, Mrs. Connor, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. McKinnon, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Charles Henderson, Mrs. Timberlake, Misses Fannie Moricall, Nell Pescud, Betsy Montgomery, Mary L. Hinton, Nannie Skinner, Mary Burton and Ida Montgomery.

Friday evening the St. Luke's Circle, King's Daughters, gave a delightful party at Pullen Park, the proceeds to benefit the splendid work of this circle in the maintenance of St. Luke's Home for Old Ladies. A snug little sum was realized in the form of refreshment and other means of amusement provided.
